- The investment approach considers the macroeconomic climate along with using systematic analysis of economic data and price trends to inform portfolio construction.
- The fund will maintain a stable core allocation to equities and bonds, combined with more dynamic allocations to a diversified range of asset types, including commodities and currencies, based on opportunities identified by the management team.
- The fund will be subject to constraints which are intended to manage risk captured within the portfolio securities. The constraints may vary over time, and due to the active nature of the management process the fund's performance profile may deviate significantly from that of the average fund of the IA's Mixed Investment 40%-85% Shares sector average.

- (c) Emerging Markets Risk - The fund may invest in emerging markets, where political, economic, legal and regulatory systems are less developed. As a result, investing in emerging markets may involve higher volatility and a greater risk of loss than investing in developed markets. In particular, where the fund invests in Variable Interest Entity (VIE) structures to gain exposure to industries with foreign ownership restrictions or invests in Chinese assets via Stock Connect / Bond Connect, there are additional operational risks, which are outlined in the prospectus.
- (d) Credit Risk - The fund invests in securities which are subject to the risk that the issuer may default on interest or capital payments.
- (e) Interest Rate Risk - The fund invests in securities which can be subject to price fluctuation for a variety of reasons including changes in interest rates or inflation expectations.
- (f) High Yield Credit Risk - The fund invests in high yield bonds which typically carry a greater risk of default than those with lower yields.
- (g) Derivatives Risk - The use of derivatives may involve additional liquidity, credit and counterparty risks and may lead to substantial loss and increased volatility in adverse market conditions. The use of derivatives may result in the fund being leveraged (where market exposure and thus the potential for loss by the fund exceeds the amount it has invested) and in these market conditions the effect of leverage will be to magnify losses.

Derivative usage

- The fund will make routine use of derivatives to express short-term views reflecting expected changes in interest rates, company share prices, inflation, currencies or creditworthiness of corporations or governments.
- Derivatives are linked to the value of other assets. In other words, they derive their price from one or more underlying asset. They can generate returns when the value of these underlying assets rise (long positions) or fall (short positions).
- The fund may also invest in other funds which may use derivatives extensively although these investments shall be in line with fund's overall risk profile.
